Management report

Goodbye 2024 and hello 2025.

2024 was in our world a continuation of 2023. The last quarter of the year ended with a roughly flat (+1%) USD NAV (driven by positive revaluations of Voi and Numan) which resulted in a full year NAV development of -13% after -5% in 2023 that feels flattish after the monstrous 2022. This is reminiscent of other historic recovery periods after large negative moves in that it takes a few years to stabilize before new serious upward movements can commence.

Our beloved BlaBlaCar got sidetracked by French politics and stood for the majority of our downtick in NAV this year. As you know we are enormously enthusiastic about the upside here but where we mark it now reflects a fair value of it.

The main focus in 2024 has been to pay down the outstanding debt. We end 2024 with lower outstanding debt compared to the end of 2023 having executed three exits to three different buyers of which one is yet to close and which will enable us to become completely debt free. This is the 100% sale of Gett (USD 83 mln to us of which USD 70 mln at closing and the rest spread over three years) which is still waiting for anti-trust approval in Israel. We paid down the bond that matured in 2024 but have rolled the one maturing in January 2025 with a new 3 year bond that allows us to pay back early upon Gett closing.

The other main area of work in 2024 has been to get the portfolio to be profitable and I wouldn't say we are happy but maybe at least content with the direction of travel. At the end of 2024 81% of the investment portfolio value was EBITDA positive (EBITDA being a decent reflection of cash flow apart from Voi where one needs to look at EBIT as they own and depreciate their vehicles – however they just become adj. EBIT positive for the full year in 2024) as compared to 70% at the end of 2023. So this progress is encouraging but as you know we long for a level of profitability which also produces a dividend stream to us as a shareholder. Such holdings are keepers as they enable stability in times of volatility...

When we look ahead to 2025 we see the portfolio delivering on this path with sales growth of 25%+ for the top 5 holdings combined and increasing margins hence a much higher growth rate in terms of EBITDA.

BlaBlaCar

So 2024 has been rough for BlaBlaCar because of an unfortunate set of circumstances including the political uncertainty post the summer that led to nearly a year long absence of their income from long distance energy saving certificates. We expect the scheme to be reinstated but at a lower level than previously. This absence and uncertainty is the main driver of us marking BlaBlaCar down lower over the year in 2024. The positive is that once reinstated we expect it to be in a more robust format and in this manner driving value at the company.

Interestingly Spain also during the year launched the same scheme which transforms this income stream from a one-country affair to a business model. We see signs of this "product" also starting up outside France and Spain which makes sense as it really is a politically cheap sustainability measure.

Beyond this volatility which has had us reducing the mark of BlaBlaCar some 25% during the year, the company is developing well. BlaBlaCar acquired Obilet, the leading online bus marketplace in Turkey, and 2nd largest in the world. Obilet is an incredible success story, which continues to grow fast while generating significant profits. As BlaBlaCar has previously witnessed in other emerging markets, bus marketplaces gel very well with its core car-pooling business. Synergies galore! This was predominantly funded by cash on balance sheet so hence minimal dilution for shareholders.

Voi

Two HUGE milestones at Voi during 2024 was 1) reaching adj. EBIT profitability (adjusted for non-cash items and one-offs) and 2) concluding its fund raising with a EUR 50 mln public bond in Sweden. A profitable, fully funded company in a sector that is quickly consolidating, whilst establishing itself as a key part of modern city transportation. As per Voi's recent press release, the company closed 2024 with EUR 132.8 mln in net revenue (+13% year-over-year, however with accelerated growth in Q4 '24 which grew 33% vs Q4 '23) and with a vehicle profit margin (margin after charging, logistics and repair costs) which grew 8 pp. to 57% driven by automation and data driven operational efficiency gains as well as higher vehicle utilization. The company also closed the year with EUR 17.2 mln in adjusted EBITDA and EUR 0.1 mln in adjusted EBIT. The funds from the bond will primarily be used to expand the fleet with new generation e-scooters and e-bikes and thus to accelerate growth going forward. On the back of funding risk dramatically reduced and profitability reached, it is not surprising to see the company at a higher mark in our NAV compared to the almost one year old transaction that likely was the low point in Voi's valuation.

Gett

As per above we are still waiting for Israeli antitrust to approve the sale of the company to Pango, an Israeli parking app, and do expect it to close during the first quarter of 2025.

However, should the transaction not be approved, there are equally interesting options for Gett, as the company is performing well, generating cash, adding to an already cash rich balance sheet. We would act to make the balance sheet more efficient by returning cash to shareholders through dividends, whilst exploring alternative strategic alternatives. All well within the 3-year duration of the new bond.

Despite the significant challenges of the lasting conflict in Israel, Gett delivered an excellent 2024, matching top-line growth with sustainable profitability. Boosted by growing ride volumes, gross bookings increased by more than 5% year-on-year to exceed USD 500 mln resulting in solid two-digit positive EBITDA. With cash and cash equivalents exceeding USD 60 mln, no debt on the balance sheet, and encouraging recent developments in Israel and the UK, the company is well-positioned to deliver further growth acceleration in 2025.

Other

Meanwhile there is a lot of positive activity in that seemingly obscure "other" part of the portfolio. "Seemingly obscure" because they remain in the shadow of our 5–10 largest holdings, but still growing strong and attracting investor interest. There have been primary and secondary transactions in quite a few names: Flo, Palta, Oura, No Traffic and Ovoko to name a few of them. Pricing has in nearly every case been at or at a premium to our NAV. As I keep going on about our next Avito or BlaBlaCar or Voi, it is likely one of the names in this other part. Today these are not in the spotlight instead hanging in the shadows of the big names.

Perhaps our next Avito is in fact Baly, the Iraqi ride hailing/delivery platform that has the potential to become the Kaspi of Iraq. Kaspi of Kazakhstan has developed into THE digital ecosystem of that country, commanding a USD 20 bln or so valuation at its Nasdaq listing. Iraq's population is more than double that of Kazakhstan's... Watch out for this one...

See you down the road everyone, thanks for staying with us!

BlaBlaCar is the world's leading community-based travel app combining a global carpooling network, with a growing bus and train offering. The platform connects people who want to travel long distances with drivers traveling on the same route, so they can travel together and share the cost. The company has more than 100 mln members in 22 countries and has in the past years been in a phase of profitable growth. BlaBlaCar ended 2024 with healthy growth in driver and passenger figures, resulting in almost 100 million PAX reflecting 20–25% growth YoY.

In April 2024, BlaBlaCar announced it had secured a EUR 100 mln revolving credit facility to enable the company to pursue an ambitious growth strategy. In June 2024, the company announced that it had signed the acquisition of the leading bus marketplace in Turkey, Obilet. The deal received approval from relevant authorities in Turkey and closed in Q4 2024.

The decree upon which French energy saving certificates (long distance) are based was ineffective due to some legal technicalities during parts of 2024. We expect the scheme to be reinstated but at a lower level than previously. During the year Spain launched the same scheme which transforms this income stream from a one-country affair to a business model. We see signs of this "product" also starting up outside France and Spain which makes sense as it really is a politically cheap sustainability measure.

In Q3 2024, the model used to value VNV's stake in BlaBlaCar was refined. With Obilet, the bus marketplace business is of such size that it grants its own valuation and VNV has therefore updated the sum-of-the-parts model to one which separately values the different revenue streams, including the bus marketplace business, at BlaBlaCar to arrive at a full company value. The valuation looks out at the next twelve months financials and multiples and includes the financial impact from Obilet.

As per December 31, 2024, VNV Global values its 14.1% ownership in BlaBlaCar at USD 208.5 mln, based on a forward-looking EV/Revenue model.

The company launched in Stockholm in August 2018 and has since become a leading e-scooter player in Europe, with presence in 100+ cities in 12 countries.

During Q1 2024, Voi announced it had closed a new funding round of USD 25 mln, where VNV participated with USD 5 mln while also converting its previously held convertible loan into equity.

In Q4 2024, Voi announced it had raised EUR 50 mln through a bond. The bond has a 4 year duration with a 6.75% spread on EURIBOR and has a EUR 125 mln framework which sets the company up to fund future CAPEX investments via debt instead of equity. During the fourth quarter, the company won additional tenders in Stuttgart (DE), Mannheim (DE), Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelins (FR), Borås (SE) and Barcelona (ES).

Voi announced in January 2025 that they closed 2024 with EUR 132.8 mln in net revenue (+13% year-over-year, however with accelerated growth in Q4 '24 which grew 33% vs Q4 '23) and with a vehicle profit margin (margin after charging, logistics and repair costs) which grew 8 pp. to 57% driven by automation and data driven operational efficiency gains as well as higher vehicle utilization. The company also closed the year with EUR 17.2 mln in adjusted EBITDA and EUR 0.1 mln in adjusted EBIT.

As per December 31, 2024, VNV Global values its 20.9% ownership in Voi at USD 101.2 mln, based on a forward-looking EV/EBITDA model.

Financial information

Group – results for the twelve-month period 2024 and net asset value

During the period, the result from financial assets at fair value through profit or loss amounted to USD -81.48 mln (2023: 46.04), primarily due to negative revaluations of BlaBlaCar, Gett and HousingAnywhere, as well as a positive revaluation of Numan.

Net operating expenses (defined as operating expenses less other operating income) amounted to USD -6.93 mln (2023: -13.06).

The decrease in the current year's operating expenses in comparison to the previous year is primarily attributable to the prior year's expenditure on incentive programs and the downsizing of the organization. Moreover, in 2020, VNV Global AB (publ) became the new parent company of the group through a business combination under common control. This redomestication resulted in the creation of reserves recognized as liabilities on the balance sheet, amounting to USD 1.7 million. These reserved costs are no longer expected to be incurred. Consequently, the reversal of these reserves was recognized in the income statement as a reduction in operating expenses, which improved the group's financial result for the year.

Net financial items were USD 3.34 mln (2023: -10.55), mainly related to bond interest expense and SEK/USD depreciation.

Net result for the period was USD -85.14 mln (2023: 22.43).

Total shareholders' equity amounted to USD 581.39 mln on December 31, 2024 (December 31, 2023: 666.29).

Liquid assets

Cash and cash equivalents of the group amounted to USD 15.68 mln (December 31, 2023: 42.49). The liquid asset investments amounted to USD 0.36 mln (December 31, 2023: 2.97), based on the latest NAV of each fund's market value. Liquidity management also includes non-operating/short-term investments derived from activities not related to the core business as well as investments in fund-oriented activities.

Group – results for the fourth quarter 2024

During the quarter, the result from financial assets at fair value through profit or loss amounted to USD 3.73 mln (2023: -29.59), primarily due to a negative revaluation of BlaBlaCar, as well as positive revaluations of Voi and Numan.

Net operating expenses (defined as operating expenses less other operating income) amounted to USD -1.59 mln (2023: -4.93).

Net financial items were USD 4.66 mln (2023: -9.77), mainly related to bond interest expense and SEK/USD appreciation.

Net result for the quarter was USD 6.80 mln (2023: -44.29).

The bonds were issued at a price of 99% of the nominal amount, run with a tenor of three years and carry a floating rate coupon of 3m STIBOR + 550 bps. In addition to customary terms, the bond terms also include a provision allowing VNV, upon the completion of the Gett transaction, to fully or partially redeem the new bonds at a price of 100% of the nominal amount.

VNV Global has redeemed its outstanding 2022/2025 bonds (ISIN: SE0017483019). The 2022/2025 bonds were redeemed at a price of 100% of the nominal amount together with any accrued and unpaid interest.

Note 3Fair value estimation

The majority of VNV Global's financial assets are valued at fair value.

Depending on market observable inputs, the valuation is based on either published price quotations, valuation techniques based on market observable inputs or determined by using other techniques. The instruments measured at fair value have been classified into three hierarchy levels as follows:

- Level 1, the measurement of the instrument is based on published quoted prices in active markets for identical assets.
- Level 2, inputs for the measurement of the instrument include also other than quoted prices observable for the asset, either directly, i.e. prices, or indirectly, i.e. derived from prices.
- Level 3, the measurement is based on other inputs rather than observable market data for the asset.

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices at the balance sheet date. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. The quoted market price used for financial assets held by the Group is the current bid price. These instruments are included in level 1.

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximize the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is included in level 2. If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

Reclassifications of an investment between levels 1, 2, 3 are for example done if and when any of the following occurs: IPO or listing/de-listing of securities, a new transaction on market terms, a previous transaction on market terms is deemed less relevant or no longer relevant as the basis for a fair value assessment.

Investments in assets that are not traded on any market will be held at fair value determined by recent transactions made at prevailing market conditions or different valuation models depending on the characteristics of the company as well as the nature and risks of the investment. The valuations of level 3 investments are either based on valuation models, typically based on EBITDA or revenue multiples of comparable listed peers or transactions on market terms that include more uncertainty given the time elapsed since completion or structure of the transactions. Other valuation techniques that may be used include discounted cash flow valuation (DCF), exit-multiple valuation, also referred to as Leveraged Buyout (LBO) valuation, asset-based valuation as well as forward-looking multiples valuation based on comparable traded companies.

Multiples-based valuation models for level 3 investments are built around a few key input parameters, namely, forward looking revenue or EBITDA estimates, net debt position, the median multiple of a selected peer group and if applicable, an adjustment factor that is qualitatively assessed and based on the following parameters relative to the selected peer group: company size, business maturity, focus geographies, growth potential, market ability and liquidity. The adjustment factor, if applied, in the multiples-based valuation models typically range between 10–40%.

Typically, transaction-based valuations are kept unchanged for a period of up to 12 months unless there is cause for a revaluation due to materially changes in external market factors or company-specific factors. After 12 months, the Group typically derives fair value for non-traded assets through any of the models described above.

The validity of valuations based on a transaction is inevitably eroded over time, since the price at which the investment was made reflects the conditions that existed on the transaction date. At each reporting date, possible changes or events subsequent to the relevant transaction are assessed and if this assessment implies a change in the investment's fair value, the valuation is adjusted accordingly.

The outstanding convertible notes are valued at fair value including accrued interest.

VNV Global follows a structured process in assessing the valuation of its unlisted investments. VNV Global evaluates company specific and external data relating to each specific investment on a monthly basis. The data is then assessed at monthly and quarterly valuation meetings by senior management. If internal or external factors are deemed to be significant further assessment is undertaken and the specific investment is revalued to the best fair value estimate. Revaluations are approved by the Board of Directors in connection with the Company's financial reports.

Current liabilities

The book value for interest-bearing loans, accounts payable and other financial liabilities are deemed to correspond to the fair values.

See annual report 2023, Note 3 "Critical accounting estimates and assumptions" for more information.

Latest transaction and valuation method

When a latest transaction is more than one year old or that the latest price transaction no longer reflects the fair value of the investment, the investment is moved from level 2 to level 3.

Convertible loan note and equity are valued at the same level in a specific investment.

Outstanding programs C 2023, D 2023 and C 2024

VNV Global operates long-term incentive programs for management and key personnel. The purpose of the programs is to encourage personnel to work in the long term and to further commit them to the Company. In 2023, two separate new incentive programs for management and key personnel, Series C 2023 and Series D 2023, were launched to replace the incentive programs 2019 to 2022. The 2019 to 2022 programs were cancelled, with the exception of some vested shares in the 2022 program. The C 2023 and D 2023 programs contain a five-year performance period (10/2023 to 3/2028). In 2024, VNV Global launched a new incentive program containing a five-year performance period (6/2024 to 3/2029), C 2024.

The incentive programs C 2023 and C 2024 tie rewards to performance of the VNV Global share price. The incentive program D 2023 ties rewards to performance of the Company's net asset value.

Some or all of the incentive shares will be redeemed or reclassified as ordinary common shares. If the performance conditions are not fulfilled, then the incentive shares will be redeemed at nominal value and cancelled.

The participants will be compensated for dividends and other value transfers to the shareholders during the term of the program. The participants are also entitled to vote for their shares of Series C 2023, D 2023 and C 2024 during the measurement period. If a participant ceases to be employed by the Group within this period, the plan shares will be redeemed, unless otherwise resolved by the Board on a case-by-case basis. The fair value of the shares of Series C 2023, D 2023 and C 2024 on the grant date was calculated on the basis of the market price of the Company's shares on the grant date and prevailing market conditions by using a Monte Carlo Valuation Method.

The Company has compensated participants for the tax impact arising from the fact that the subscription price was below fair market value. The cost of this subsidy, social fees excluded, is distributed over five years and amounted to USD 0.3 mln for LTIP C 2023, USD 0.1 mln for LTIP D 2023 and USD 1.0 mln for LTIP C 2024.

Key and Alternative Performance Measures Group

Alternative Performance Measures (APM) apply the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) guidelines.

APMs are financial measures other than financial measures defined or specified by International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

VNV Global regularly uses alternative performance measures to enhance comparability from period to period and to give deeper information and provide meaningful supplemental information to analysts, investors and other parties.

It is important to know that not all companies calculate alternative performance measures identically, therefore these measurements have limitations and should not be used as a substitute for measures of performance in accordance with IFRS.

Definitions of all APMs used are found below.

IFRS-defined performance measurements (not alternative performance measurements)

Performance measurements	Definitions
Weighted average number of common shares	Weighted average number of common shares for the period.
Earnings per share, USD	When calculating earnings per share, the average number of shares is based on average outstanding common shares. Plan Shares, issued to participants in the Company's long-term share-based Incentive programs, are not treated as outstanding common shares and thus are not included in the weighted calculation. The issue of Plan Shares is however recognized as an increase in shareholders' equity.
Diluted earnings per share, USD	When calculating diluted earnings per share, the average number of common shares is adjusted to consider the effects of potential dilutive common shares that have been offered to employees, originating during the reported periods from share-based incentive programs. Dilutions from share-based incentive programs affect the number of shares and only occur when the incentive program performance conditions of the respective programs are fulfilled.

Alternative performance measurements

Performance measurements	Definitions	Motives
Equity ratio, %	Equity ratio is defined as Shareholders' equity in percent in relation to total assets.	The performance measure demonstrates how much of the total assets that have been financed with equity for the assessment of the company's capital structure and financial risk.
Net asset value, USD and SEK	Net asset value is defined as the amount of shareholders' equity according to the balance sheet.	The performance measure determines the value of the company's net assets and thus shows the carrying amount of the company enabling a comparison with the company's enterprise value.
Net asset value per share, USD and SEK	Shareholders' equity divided by total number of common shares at the end of the period.	An established performance measure for investment companies that demonstrates the owners' share of the company's total net assets per share and enables comparison with the company's share price.
Net asset value per share development in USD and SEK, %	Change in net asset value per share in USD and SEK compared with previous accounting year, in percent.	A measure of profitability that shows the company's return and how the net asset value per share develops between different periods.
Net asset value per share adjusted for rights issue and buy-back of own shares, USD and SEK	Net asset value per share adjusted for rights issue and buy-back of own shares is defined as the amount of shareholders' equity according to the balance sheet adjusted for rights issue and buy-back of own shares during the year. The adjusted shareholders' equity is divided by the adjusted number of common shares, which excludes issued and repurchased shares during the year.	To reflect the net asset value development by excluding transactions with owners shown in the shareholder's equity specification by adjusting the numerator (net asset value) and the denominator (number of common shares).
Net asset value per share development in USD and SEK, adjusted for rights issue and buy-back of own shares, %	Net asset value per share development in USD and SEK, adjusted for rights issue and buy-back of own shares is defined as the adjusted shareholders' equity divided by the adjusted number of common shares.	Provided that rights issue proceeds have been invested in level 2 investments, a more fair net asset value development is shown without the effects of rights issues and buy-backs of own shares.
